

Berkshire Hathaway to be featured on Green Magazine Television

WDCC is proud to announce that Berkshire Hathaway, Warren Buffett's conglomerate holding company, will be featured on "Green Magazine Television" during the series 2010-2011 season.

July 13, 2010- "Green Magazine Television" produced by WDCC, is a new television series featuring ecology and energy conscious companies and organizations. The series showcases some of the newest and "greenest" technologies being utilized, and is scheduled to be aired as paid programming on Thursdays at 8:30 AM on The Discovery Channel at 7:30 AM on Saturdays on The Learning Channel on May 16 at 7:00 AM. WDCC has also started selling past programs into syndication.

Based on a survey of American money managers, Barron's Magazine named Berkshire Hathaway the most respected company in the world in 2007. Founded in 1839 as the Valley Falls Company in Valley Falls, Rhode Island, Berkshire Hathaway today is a conglomerate holding company headquartered in Omaha, Nebraska that oversees and manages a large number of subsidiary companies with 246,000 employees and total assets of over $131 billion in 2009. Berkshire Hathaway now owns a diverse range of businesses including railroads, candy production, retail, home furnishings, encyclopedias, vacuum cleaners, jewelry sales; newspaper publishing; manufacture and distribution of uniforms; as well as several regional electric and gas utilities.

For more information on "Green Magazine Television," visit www.greenmagazinetv.com

WDCC (www.wdcc.tv) is an independent television production company that produces unique programming for niche markets. Culinary, Current Issues, Healthcare and New Technology are just some of the industries that are included in our line-up. Shows currently in production are "Green Magazine Television", "Profiles in Innovation" and "Health on the Edge."

Contact:

Dan Dailey, Executive Producer

WDCC

212-752-3152

info@wdcc.tv